Select Miscellany.

The Census Bureau—Its Organization and Present Working System.

This bureau, the results of which as a decennial institution are so interesting not only to the country at large, but to all the nations of the world, is now in such systematic working order that its duties will be completed, it is believed, within two years.

As the detale of the bureau may be of interest to the public, we will state that it was started in Febuary last by the appointment of Gen. Fracis A. Walker, as Superintendent, than whom no better selection could have been made. General Walker is a native of Massachusetts, and was connected for a long while with the Springfield Republican, until he came to this city in January, 1869, when he received an appointment in the Treasury Department as deputy to Special Commissioner Wells, of the Treasury Department. He also had charge of the Bureau of Statistics. He has, also, a military record, having served as Adjutant General during the last three years of the war in the second corps of the Army of the Potomac.

On receiving his appointment to his present responsible duties, he went to work immediately; but for some months the business of the office was confined to correspondence all over the county, with a view to practical operations. No sooner, however, had he the work in hand than he organized the office into seven divisions, which are now in full operation, as follows:—Correspondence—W. J. Warren, chief. Results—Col. S. J. Stocking, chief. Compilation, (three divisions,) sixty clerks in each, tallying occupations, age, sex, nativities, education and illiteracy, &c., of which C. S. Mixter, C. W. Seaton and Col. Henry Stone are chiefs. Agriculture and Mortuary Statistics—D. S. Keller, chief, with thirty clerks, with prospects of an increase to sixty or seventy-five. Manufactures—this division, Mr. S. Webber, chief, is still in embryo as far as compilations are concerned, the correspondence in that respect being most extensive all over the country.

There are now, by the actual rolls, 246 clerks in the employment of the bureau, therolls of the last three months showing an average increase of twenty clerks per week, which will be continued as far as practicable until the maximum working force of 325 clerks is attained.

The superintendent will put a large force at once on the divisions of agriculture, manufactures, vital and social statistics, and get them out of the way, so that by that time he will be able to select the "leaven" of his clerical force for work on the population statistics, the completion of which will be merely a question of months. The statistics of mortality and agriculture will be pushed through for publication this winter.

The operations of the bureau are somewhat retarded by the inadequate provisions of the law establishing the same, and providing for promotions therein, as in all the other departments the first class clerks are very few compared with the numbers of higher grade, while in the Census Bureau there can, according to the law as it now stands, be only one of a higher grade than first class for every thirteen of the force expected to be employed.

The Two Apprentices.

Two boys were apprenticed in a carpenter's shop. One determined to make himself useful, a thorough workman; the other "didn't care." One read and studied, and bought books that would help him to understand the principles of his trade. He spent his evenings at home, reading. The other liked fun the best. He often went with other boys to have a "good time."

"Come," he often said to his shopmate, "leave your books, and go with us. What's the use of all this reading?"

"If I waste these golden moments," was the boy's answer, "I shall lose what I can never make up."

While the boys were still apprentices, an offer of two thousand dollars appeared in the newspapers for the best plan for a State House, to be built in one of the Eastern States. The studious boy saw the advertisement, and determined to try for it. After careful study, he drew out his plans and then sent them to the committee. We suppose he did not really expect to gain the prize, but still he thought "there is nothing like trying." In about a week afterwards a gentleman arrived at the carpenter's shop, and asked if an architect by the name of Washington Wilberforce lived there.

"No," said the architect; "but I've got an apprentice by that name."

"Let's see him," said the gentleman.

The lad was summoned, and informed that his plan was accepted, and that the two thousand dollars were his. The gentleman then said that the boy must put up the building, and his employer was so proud of his success that he willingly gave him his time and let him go.

This studious young carpenter became one of the first architects of the country. He made a fortune, and stands high in the esteem of everybody, while his fellow-apprentice can hardly earn food for himself and family by his daily labor.

GROWTH OF THE PACIFIC COAST.—A great impetus will be given to the growth of the Pacific Coast, by a number of the leading capitalists of New York, who are said to have associated themselves with capitalists in Frankfort, Amsterdam, the Hague, and London, for the purpose of buying all the lands included in the grant to the Oregon Central Railroad—about 4,750,000 acres, and the Oregon branch of the Central Pacific Railroad, covering about 3,000,000 more. Immigration from Europe on a large scale is to be brought out, and settlers will soon occupy the lands which will thus change hands, and which are of excellent quality, and easily accessible, being located along the line of the railroad. The price paid amounts to about $10,900,000, which will furnish ready money at once to the builders of the road. The purchasers also made a round profit, as the bulk of the land will re-sell immediately, at from three dollars to five dollars per acre.

A clover field is a rare thing in North Carolina.

Is Justice Blind.

We clip the following sensible article from the Harrisburg State Journal and commend its suggestion to the good and pure everywhere, and especially to the attention of our State Legislature.

Several months ago there were formed a conspiracy to murder an officer of the United States government. They executed their design by shooting, in open daylight, in the business center of Philadelphia, Chief Detective Brooks. The men were arrested, tried, found guilty, and sentenced to seven years confinement in the penitentiary. The act was applauded by all good citizens. There is now in a cell of the same prison, sent thither one month ago, a little girl of twelve years, simple and childish as one of half those years. She was charged with having set fire to a barn in one of the eastern counties; was tried, found guilty on such evidence as could be gathered, mainly, it is said, on her own confession, drawn out by threats and made in fear. This child, visited last week by a minister of the gospel, was found playing with her picture books. She prattled of the charge and trial scene as if they were matters of light moment to her. The parallel of this case was brought to a close recently at Sing Sing, New York. A lad of eight years, sent to that prison ten years ago, had served out his full term, and was released and sent into the world eighteen years old, without knowledge or experience of what that world would require of him. Fleeing from New York, the scene of his crime, he was found by a benevolent lady in the streets of Philadelphia, vacant and aimless as an untutored lad of ten. "The only thing I can do," said the young man, "is to commit some crime for which they will send me back to prison ten years more."

The attention of the Young Men's Christian Association was called to this case. They provided him with board and lodging, and invited him to visit the rooms on Chestnut street. Soon a place was found on a farm for the unfortunate youth, and he is now striving to become an industrious man and a useful citizen. Suppose this little girl remain eight years in our State's prison, what will be the end of the life warped to the dimension of the narrow walls that confine her? Are there not other institutions in this State to which such offenders may be sent for reform, and not for ruin? To this subject we invite the humane and benevolent of our great and generous Commonwealth.

Sensible Talk.

The Young Ladies Literary Journal thus moralizes on "engagements." The subject is worthy the considerate attention of our young lady readers: "We think 'engagements' should be considered more in their true light—as periods of probation merely on both sides, inasmuch that it is better that fifty engagements should come to naught than that one unhappy marriage should be celebrated. Too much stress and indignation are often expressed at the contemptible reasons assigned in Court. The fact is, generally speaking, there is no definite reason that can be properly assigned save the all important one of incompatibility of temper, and this is rarely brought forward. Everything, then, points to the very greatest care and caution being exercised before an engagement is sealed. If the good sense and affection of a girl all lead her to the choice she is making, she stands a fair chance in securing a good husband. If her choice proves to be wrong, and she has been deceived by the one she trusted, or should he find he could not love her as he ought to do, it is more honorable that he should declare it; and we do not approve of the argument being brought forward, as in a recent case, in which the damsel strongly desired that the quarrel might be 'made up' only in effect, adding to the cry of "Marry me! marry me!" and if you do not I'll make you suffer!' which she did, the gentleman in the case referred to having to buy his freedom at the cost of $5,000. Ladies, when they are fairly engaged, generally stand an excellent chance of being held to the bargain they have made; and if they are let off, it is only because they are not cared for. In such an event they should see reasons to congratulate themselves that they have found out the truth in time, and have the philosophy to exclaim, "better to have been once loved (though not married) than never to have been loved at all;" and so saying cast their net of charms and loviliness again into the sea. And it is hard if their dearly bought experience does not enable them this time to bring their prize easily to land."

That One Glass.

For two years past I have been laboring to save an inebriate. After several relapses he became perfectly sober, and gave good hope of permanent reform. His wife remarked, "If he falls again it will kill me." Things went on smoothly several months. That once darkened home had become once more a sunny spot. But one day the reformed man met an old friend who invited him to dinner. At the table wine was furnished and the entertainer pressed the reformed inebriate to take a glass with him. He knew the man's former habits. The unhappy man swallowed one glass, and it unchained the demon in a moment. From that hour to this my poor friend has hardly seen a sober day, and nothing but a miracle of God's grace will ever lift him from the bottomless pit into which one treacherous glass of champagne hurled him in an instant. In this case it is not difficult to decide who was the greatest sinner. The man who urges a reformed inebriate to touch a drop of intoxicating liquors deserves to be imprisoned for ten years at hard

BELLEFONTE, PA.,

Wednesday Morning, November 2, 1870.

AN officer of the Revenue Department, fresh from an inspection of the cotton region of the South, estimates the growing crop at not less than 3,800,000 bales—a larger crop than has been produced since 1860. He also conveys the cheering intelligence that the quality will be superior to any crop ever raised in the country; and this statement may doubtless be accepted with less hesitation than dealers will display toward the first.

MISSOURI has startled the world by accounts of the two wonderful iron mountains called Pilot Knob and Iron Mountain, and again by the discovery of mountains of tin and of plate glass sand. Now comes Johnson Ranney, Esq., of Cape Girardeau county, with accounts of a mountain of black marble, situated upon his farm, half a mile from the Mississippi river. The mountain is ninety feet high and three-quarters of a mile long, and yields a marble of the most exquisite beauty of grain and susceptibility of finish.

AFRICAN WINES.—It is not generally known that Cape Colony produces the most delicious wines grown on the face of the earth. A cargo received as a remittance by our neighbors Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., contains several varieties raised there, among which the Constancia commands the highest price of any wine in the world. Almost the entire crop of it is consumed in the palaces of Europe, this rare exception being sent to them in exchange for their medicines, which have long been the staple remedies of South Africa.—[Boston Journal.

THE GERMAN ORDER OF HARUGARI.—From the statistics of the above Order presented to the Grand Lodge at its recent session in Reading, we glean the following figures: "Total membership 17,665; cash capital, $393,852 74; number of lodges, 220; number of brethren relieved during the past year; 2,617; amount appropriated to same, $53,043,06; widows receiving pensions, 482; brethren burried, 305; pensions to widows and orphans, $18,673 48; funeral expenses, $14,474 81; expended for general beneficial purposes, $38,884 54.

AMONG the Frenchmen who came to help us during the revolutionary war were Nicholas Fonquette and his son, Mark Antoine, who taught our people to make gunpowder, and thus did great service in recognition of which the Continental Congress appropriated 8,000 livres as a testimonial to them. The father died soon after the war, but the son married a Massachusetts girl, and their descendants lately, in rummaging some old papers, found proof of the money due them, and have placed the claim in the hands of Ben. Butler for prosecution.

IMPORTANCE OF ONE VOTE.—Some voters in majority districts think, if they remain away from the polls on election day, the absence of their vote will not materially change the result. The official vote of four Congressional Districts in this State, we would commend to their serious attention. In this District Armstrong was defeated by 27 votes. In the 17th District Morrell was defeated by 11 votes. In the Cumberland District John Cessna is reported defeated by 15 votes. In the Columbia and Susquehanna District Capt. Brockway was defeated by 127 votes.

THE following is the official statement of the Land Department, Union Pacific Railroad, from July 28, 1869, to October 4, 1870: The Union Pacific Railroad sold 240,344 19-100 acres, for which they received $1,106,049 32, or an average of $4,60 per acre. The company cancelled $618,000 of their land grant bonds, received in payment for their lands. The trustees hold $400,000 in settlers' notes, secured by mortgage on land sold, and $50,000 in cash, to be appropriated to further purchases of land grant bonds. The Union Pacific Railroad have 11,750,000 acres of land remaining unsold.

TREASURER Spinner calls upon banks and bankers to send in all Government greenbacks of issues previous to 1869, and have them redeemed by issues of the series of 1869, as he desires to retire the old issues, and thereby facilitate trade and baffle the counterfeiters. Express charges for forwarding the old and returning the new will be paid by the Government. Greenbacks or legal tenders of the issue of 1869, or new fractional currency, will be supplied as the parties may desire. Old notes will be exchanged for new ones at the Sub-Treasuries of Government depositories, or may be sent to the Treasury Department for redemption.

SOLDIERS HOMESTEAD.—The following article which we clip from the Harrisburg Telegraph in relation to the recent act of Congress, Entitled Soldiers Homestead, shows how faithfully the great Republican party takes care of the Soldier's interests. We will have something to say on this subject in the future. Soldiers cut this out and preserve it, or preserve the paper:

We do not know whether soldiers are generally aware of the fact or not that they are entitled to homesteads, at a very small outlay of cash, in the alternate reserved sections of public lands along Western railroads. According to an official statement from the Commissioner of Public Lands of the estimated quantity of these reserved even sections still undisposed of, and now subject to entry under the homestead and preemption laws; there are 4,350,000 acres in Minnesota, 1,550,000 acres in Michigan, 500,000 acres in Iowa, and 2,650,000 acres in Wisconsin, of which the West Wisconsin Railroad, from Tomah to Lake St. Croix, is credited with 600,000 acres, and the St. Croix and Lake Superior Railroad with 550,000 acres. Under the law passed last July, every soldier, or seaman, or officer, who has served ninety days in the Union army, or navy, is entitled, on payment of a fee of $10, and other usual small commissions to the land officers, to enter a quarter section of land, not mineral, of any of the even numbered sections within the railroad land-grant limits of ten miles on each side of the line of the road. This law offers a chance to every soldier who comes within its provisions of securing a homestead of one hundred and sixty acres of good land, which would cost a small fortune in any of the Western States, for the trifling sum of perhaps $15 or $20. Every soldier who can command that sum should avail himself of the chance thus offered to secure a permanent home.

GEN. ROBT. E. LEE.

—With all his illiberality and general libelousness, Brown couldn't find it in his heart to say anything mean, editorially, about Gen Lee's death. So, in order to get out of it, he copies a contemptible article on the subject out of that wretched, low-down sheet, the Harrisburg Telegraph. He didn't like to libel the dead hero, but he hadn't the manliness to say so.—Watchman of Oct. 21.

We copied the article in reference to Gen. Lee, from the Harrisburg Telegraph, because it embodied our sentiments fully and truly, and we had not time to write an article of our own, nor could we have written a better one if we had tried.

You are the last man, Meek, to talk about "illiberality" or "general libelousness." There is scarcely a good man, a christian or literary institution in the land that you have not libeled. There has never been a single officer in the Union Army not even excepting Gen. McClelland that you have not slandered, maligned and libelled. You libelled President Lincoln while living and after he was dead, like a Hyena or devilish ghoul you dug up his remains, in imagination at least, and with your puny but bitter and traiterous pen, wrote all manner of slander, vituperation and abuse. Need we call your attention to your articles on the Hon. E. Stanton both before and after he was dead?

When did you ever write a line commomrating the great name and soldierly abilities of Gen. Thomas, or any other great and good Union General either before or after death? Have you forgotten, how all through the rebellion you sympathised with Gen. Lee and the rebel cause, and heaped all manner of indignities and abuse upon the brave boys in blue, who had, in obedience to their countries call, shouldered their muskets and advanced to the front, to save the Union, which Gen Lee and such sympathisers as you, were attempting to destroy.

We copied the Telegraph article, and what it said was well said, was truthful and right, but it should have gone a little further and said what we will now add, that the greatest mistake the leaders of the Republican party ever made, was committed when they resolved not to hang by the neck Jeff Davis, Gen. Robert E. Lee et id omnia genus, as traitors to their government—traitors of the deepest and blackest dye. Gen Lee was educated by the Government. He drew his sword against it, and thus proved himself an ingrate. He took an oath to be true to his government, then violated that oath making himself a purjured villian. He then went into the rebellion as generallissimo of the rebel armies, and thus made himself guilty of the murder of thousands and tens of thousands of his fellow citizens. He lived a traitor, through the courtesy or blunder of the Republican leaders he escaped the hangmans rope, and he died a traitor, loved and esteemed by P. G. Meek and all other traitors, and only by such. Illiberal and libelous, for sooth!

A REPORT of the finances of the Free Trade League for the year ending October 1st, 1870, has been published. The balance on hand of $8,434 32 has been increased by $45,100 50 of subscriptions, and diminished by $26,229 12 of expenses, leaving a surplus of over $31,000. Of the expenses nearly ten thousand dollars went to ten secretaries and agents; besides nearly four thousand dollars for their traveling expenses. The printing account is about eight thousand dollars. But the publishers' table of receipts is most significant. There are eight subscriptions of $1,000 and upwards, all from importers, foreign bankers and vessel men, except $5,000 from Mahlon Sands, who is a retired importer and Secretary of the League. Of the one hundred and sixteen other subscribers, whose names are not given, eighty-two are connected with foreign trade and depend for their business profits upon increased commerce with those countries, in whose favor they ask the United States to reduce its tariff. These merchants, importers and bankers are fully as great monopolists in their way as is any American manufacturer, yet they modestly ask to have the tariff made to accommodate their "British gold" and foreign interests, instead of the home interests of our own manufacture.

TRYING as it will be to the French to meet the demands of their victorious enemies, they can hardly be called upon for sacrifices so great as they were compelled to make in payment for the hundred days Empire they permitted to the First Napoleon in 1815. Then armies were put in motion which outnumbered even the hosts of Germans who are swarming in and towards France now, and all Europe, from the Ural mountains to the Atlantic, was filled with camps. For that three months' enthusiasm France paid down 1,525,000,000 francs, maintained 150,000 of her enemies for three years in her territories, and when they left, commuted the cost of supporting them for two years more at 265,000,000 francs. The money cost of her defeat was at the lowest calculation 2,200,000,000 francs, $440,000,000 in gold, besides the expenses of her own troops and preparations. If there is any one who thinks the resources of France can be exhausted in five weeks, let him recall these proofs of what the country could do after twenty years of war.

Our neighbor, the Tribune, last week made an unkind reflection upon Wm. P. Wilson, Esq., one of our defeated candidates for State Senator. Its statement that he was unpopular at home, is not warranted by the official figures, and its assertion that the nominations were "set up too long, and positively obnoxious to the majority of the party," is equally without foundation. In Bellefonte, Mr. Wilson had 125 majority to 71 for Geary last year, and ran 120 ahead of the average vote for the ticket in Centre county and 150 over Armstrong for Congress. Considering that one of the Tribune editors solicited a Republican Senatorial nomination, a decent respect for the opinions of those who supported him, should have prompted at least as fair dealing toward the successful nominees as was accorded Dr. Crawford by the Tribune.—Blair County Radical.

Hon. James F. Wilson, of Iowa, member of Congress as long as he wanted to be, after refusing three Cabinet offices, several foreign missions and a variety of other high positions, at the last election was voted in as Road Supervisor of District No. 6, Fairfield.

At the late election the people of Jefferson county voted for or against prohibition. The vote stood for prohibition, 636; against prohibition, 1536.

The Methodist Episcopal denomination own property in this State valued at $,757,146.

THE GENERAL RESULT

The result of the election thus far on Congressmen shows the delegation to be unchanged in Maine, Vermont, Ohio, Iowa, Nebraska, Oregon and Mississippi, while there is a gain of three Democrats in North Carolina, four in Pennsylvania, and one in Indiana—a Democratic gain of eight. Thus far the members elected to the 42d Congress stand 56 Republicans and 27 Democrats. A full House contains 243 members, but for several reasons there are but 233 sitting members of the present House, of whom 167 are Republicans and 66 Democrats. There are 160 members to be elected of whom 102 are expected to be Republicans and 58 Democrats—thus giving for the next House 168 Republicans and 85 Democrats or just enough to destroy the present two-thirds Republican majority.

The New York Herald, which is not a Republican paper, and which predicted before the recent elections great gains for the Democracy, now says that the following facts may be regarded as established:

First—That the people of the United States, by a heavy majority, accept, endorse and approve the administration of Gen. Grant. Second—That the Republican party on the platform of this administration are sure of a decisive majority in the popular branch of the next Congress, whereby, the Senate being secure, both Houses will be in accord with the President to the end of his term. Third—That he is good for a second term against all opposition combinations and opposing candidates. Fourth—That the Democrats have made no headway of any account since 1868. Fifth—That the new element of the colored vote is en masse with the Republicans. Sixth—That there is some danger that the Democracy may lose New York in November.

The sixth point is put very mildly by the Herald, because it knows its party stands no chance of carrying New York except by fraud, and that game is at least "scotched', by the late law of Congress, if not altogether blocked. We anticipate a favorable result in New York.

WILL THE ELECTION BE CONTESTED.

Will Mr. Armstrong contest the election is a question which agitates a good many of our Democratic friends at present. They are quite complimentary to Mr. A., declaring that he is altogether too high-minded and honorable a man to do such a thing. While we appreciate these compliments paid to Mr. Armstrong, we feel constrained to say that if it should be discovered that fraud has been perpetrated, or the law violated to such an extent as to justify it, the election will be contested. Mr. Armstrong as an individual might not care to push the matter merely for his own personal benefit, but he owes a duty to his friends, to the principles he represents, and to the law which should be respected and vindicated paramount to any mere personal feeling of delicacy or ambition, and by which he will be governed in the premises.

Information in our possession would seem to indicate that there will be but little difficulty in establishing Mr. Armstrong's right to a seat in Congress, but not having possession of all the frauds we do not feel competent to pronounce a decided opinion. The matter will be sifted, when, with the facts in his possession, Mr. Armstrong will be able to decide the question. If the law has been violated those who were guilty must bear the consequence.—Jersey Shore Vidette.

THERE are now on the pension rolls quite a number of the widows of Revolutionary soldiers who are over one hundred years of age. A recent inquiry sent out by the Pension office has elicited the ages of the following centennarians whose names are on the pension rolls: L. Miller, Matamora, Ohio 107 years; Anna Place, Portland, Me., 100 years; Mary Basil, Dalter, N. Y., 100 years; Mehitable Picher, Suffield, Conn., 102 years; Happy Mouse, Portland Me., 100 years; Dinah Vick, Bellevue, Tenn.; over 100 years; Lydia Blevins, Troy, Ohio, 109 years, and has a son eighty-seven years old; Hannah Andrew, Lowell Centre, Me., 101 years; Rebecca Page, Keene, N. Y., 100 years; Mary C. Troub, Corydon, Ind., 104 years; Nancy Henderson, Lawrenceburg, Ky., 100 years; A. Grass, Amherst, N. H., 100 years. Many of these were the second wives of the Revolutionary veterans, who had lost their spouses during the time that tried men's souls. Most of them were born in the year 1770, just a century ago, and became marriagable within a few years after the close of the Revolutionary struggle.

NO HUMBUG.—We do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures all diseases of mind, body or estate, and is designed to make our subluinary sphere a blissful Paradise to which Heaven itself shall be but a side show, but we do wish to inform you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has cured thousands of cases of catarrh in its worst forms and stages, and the proprietor will pay $500 for a case of this loathsome disease that he cannot cure. It may be procured by mail for sixty cents, by addressing R. V. Pierce, M. D. 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y. A pamphlet free. Sold by druggists.—Look out for men representing themselves as Dr. Sage; Dr. Pierce, whose private Government Revenue Stamp is on every package of the Genuine, is the only man living who can manufacture the Original Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

PROTECTION is growing among the people, notwithstanding all the efforts to talk them over to Free Trade. Protection is practical, Free Trade is a theory, and the public prefers what it can understand. The following remark of the St. Louis Tribune shows what advance the American principle is making in Missouri: "The brass founders of St. Louis say that since the developments of the zinc mines of Missouri, under the Protective Tariff, they are able to complete with foreign manufacturers, give good wages and prosper, though the price of copper is high, for brass in common use is made of copper and zinc. They expect when our tin mines are developed, under the same protection, they will be able to give good wages and prosper in the manufacture of the better description of brass."

THE Governor of Ohio has issued the following proclamation, which is a model:

"In accordance with usages and the religious sentiment of Ohio, the 24th day of November next is hereby appointed a day of thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God, for the boundless blessings He has vouchsafed to the American people during the past year.

[Signed] "B. B. HAYES, Gov.
"ISAAC R. SHERWOOD, Sec. of State.

LOSS OF THE STEAMSHIP CAMBRIA.

The Steamship Cambria, from New York to Glasgow, was wrecked off the coast of Donegal, Ireland, and all her passengers and crew, 194 in number, perished, with the exception of one man. The following is his narrative:

The voyage from New York was generally fortunate, notwithstanding that unpleasant weather prevailed most of the time, until the night of Wednesday, October 10, between ten and eleven o'clock. The Cambria was under full sail and steaming rapidly. Suddenly, when all was apparently going well, she struck on Mistraline Island, a small rockey island ten miles west of Donegal and thirty miles west of Londonderry.

The vessel instantly began to fill through the large hole stove in the bottom, and the fires were soon extinguished. It became evident that the steamer was hopelessly lost, and the efforts were directed to save the lives of the passengers, who were massed upon deck, and four boats, crowded with passengers, were launched and put off from the steamer. Mr. McGartland, the survivor, entered one of these and he saw no more of the ship and the boats. The weather was very heavy and he thinks there is no doubt all the boats were swamped, and that he is the only survivor.

Almost instantly upon getting into the boat it capsized and he lost all consciousness. Upon reviving he found himself in the sea, but grasping the gunwale of the boat, which had righted, he succeeded in getting in the boat a second time, and found therein the dead body of a lady dressed in black silk.—Mr. McGartland was tossed about many hours when he was picked up by the Enterprise, Captain Gillespie, who cruised about the scene of the disaster for a long time in the hope of saving life and property.

Mr. McGartland says that almost at the very time of the disaster the passengers and crew were congratulating themselves on a tempestuous voyage nearly finished, and rejoicing in the fact that in one short hour more they would land at Moville. There were certainly 190 souls on board and perhaps more.

THE late Mr. Joseph Buchingham, one of the most progressive of all the New England editors, wrote in the Boston Courier, of June 27, 1827, as follows of the railroad then proposed from Boston to Albany:

"Alcibiades, or some other great man of antiquity, it is said, cut off his dog's tail, that quid nunc(* * *)might not become extinct from want of excitement. Some such motive, we doubt not, moved one or two of our natural and experimental philosophers to get up the project of a railroad from Boston to Albany—a project which every one knows, who knows the simplest rule in arithmetic—to be impracticable, but at an expense little less than the market value of the whole territory of Massachusetts; and which, if practicable, every person of common sense knows, would be as useless as a railroad from Boston to the moon."

The Commissioners of Union county offer a reward of $200 for the arrest and conviction of the scoundrels who committed the outrage on the young lady in Limestone township, some time since.

Colonel Sam. Young has enlarged his paper, the East Brady Independent, and given it a new suit of type. It is now one of our most handsome country exchanges, and always filled with spicy local news.

The Williamsport Bulletin puts the following query? "Are the subterranean fires following up the Appalachian chain? and shall we have active volcanoes in our mountains and periodical shocks of earthquakes?" We give it up.

Mrs. Ann Geary, probably the oldest lady in the county, died in Doylestown on Saturday afternoon, the 15th ult., in her ninety-fourth year. She had enjoyed good health until a recent period. She was a native of Plumstead township and was a distant relative of Governor Geary.

A few days ago Mrs. William Ash, of West Salem township, Mercer county, became the happy mother of triplets, two boys and a girl, averaging in weight four and a half pounds. Mrs. Ash was the mother of eight children previous to this last addition to her family. "Ashes to Ashes."

N. N. Seeley, of Mercer, announces to the public that he has discovered a new principle of motive power, viz:—"The construction of a machine that will by force of its own combination, develop sufficient power to answer all the purposes for which steam, water, horses, &c., are used."

John Fallon, of Philadelphia; William S. Woods and Theodore Wright, of Lock Haven, Pennsylvania; Franklin Hughes, of Pottsville, Pensylvania, and E. P. Buell, of Warsaw, Illinois, have begun suit in the United States Circuit Court at St Louis to secure protection for their interest in the Missouri and Mississippi Railroad.

LOCAL ITEMS.

SHINNY.—And now comes Shinny to vex the souls and threaten the shins of pedestrians. We shout,—Police!

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer. The genuine article has a proprietary stamp running over the cork of the bottle.

WHO IS SHE?—It is said that there is a lady in this place who rests her head on a grammer while sleeping, in order that she may dream correctly.

RETURNED.—Mr. Alexander Sample, with his family, has returned to old Mother centre where he intends remaining. He has located at Pine Grove.

EXPLANATION.—In the local notice, in our last number, of absent mindedness, the types made us say "a paper boy" which we wrote "passer by."

COLORADO is seeking admission into the Union as a State. Its people, without distinction of party, are in favor of changing their territorial form of government, and will make a strong effort to bring about admission this winter.

TONE YOUR SYSTEM.—The tonic properties of Speer's "Standard Wine Bitters" are such, that none can use them without receiving essential benefit. The effect will be to maintain the usual stamina and vigor of system.

Sold by Druggists.

FOR SALE.—A valuable Hotel property for sale, in Central City, with all the modern improvements. It is one of the best stands both for store and hotel in Central Pennsylvania. For further particulars apply at the office of the Bellefonte REPUBLICAN. n42tf.

CHURCH BURNED.—We learn that the Evangelical church at Woodward, this county, was destroyed by fire on the 22d ult. The fire originated by enlarging the bell-rope hole in the ceiling with a red hot poker. The church had been but recently repaired at an expense of five hundred dollars and the loss of it will be severely felt by the congregation.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.—The Chairmanship of any county Committee, during a political campaign, is a thankless and laborious position at the best. The members of his party look to him for the management of every minutia pertaining to the success of the campaign. The various duties imposed on him, which he is compelled to perform, are frequently difficult and sometimes unpleasant. During the late political campaign, in this county, no previous Chairman was more attentive to the requirements of his party, or worked harder for its success, than did the present Chairman, James H. Rankin, Esq. He was untiring in his efforts to promote the success of the great Republican party, and is well deserving the thanks of every true republican in the county.

WHAT WE CARRY IN OUR SYSTEMS.—A writer who has studied it all out says: "We drink, every one of us, a pair of boots a year! We carry iron enough in our blood, constantly, to make a horse-shoe. We have clay enough in our frames to make, if properly separated and baked, a dozen good sized bricks We eat, at least a peck of dirt a month —no, that is not too large an estimate.' The man who carelessly tips a glass of lager into his stomach little reflects that he has begun the manufacture of a hat, yet such is the case. The malt of the beer assimilates with the chyle, and forms a sort of felt—the very same seen so often in hat factories. But not being instantly utilized it is lost. Still further: it is estimated that the bones of every adult person rqeuire to be fed with lime enough to make a marble mantle every eight months."

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—The Third Annual Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of the State of Pennsylvania, will convene at Scranton, Luzerne county, on Tuesday, Nov. 8th, 1870, closing its session on Thursday evening. Delegates are expected from all the Associations in the State, among whom will be many of our most prominent ministers and earnest Christian workers. A most cordial invitation is extended to ministers and Christian laymen in town and country districts where there are no Associations, to come to the Convention. A most hearty Christian welcome is assured to all who come, and arrangements will be made for their entertainment, as well as for reduced fair on railroads.

All who design attending, are requested to address Thomas K. Cree, Chairman State Executive Committee, Pittsburgh, that they may avail themselves of these privileges.

HOME INDUSTRY.—The principle of free trade advocated by the party calling itself Democratic, would if adopted as the policy of this country crush out all kinds of American manufactories and throw idle more than one million of American Mechanics, and laboring men. Our country would be flooded with British iron, woolen goods, hardware and cutlery, Boots & Shoes &c.

By the way we did not intend to write an essay upon the tariff at this time; but we want our mechanics and laboring men to think, and speaking of boots and shoes, brought to our remembrance the enterprising firm of Powers & McClain, John Powers and Frank McClain. Mr. Powers is emphatically one of the best boot and shoe makers in this country—a skilled and practical workman that has few, if any equals. The Boot & Shoe Store of Powers and McClain, in the McClain Block, is filled to overflowing with stock of the best kind. We noticed several pairs of ladies ornamented slippers, that excel in beauty and finish anything we have ever seen. Call and see for yourselves.

BELLEFONTE IRON COMPANY.—The Bellefonte Iron Company, was organized in the early part of this year and went into operation about five months ago, under the superintendence of Jno. Jenkins, Esq. Its President is E. M. Valentine, and H. C. Valintine is its Treasurer. In this community these gentlemen rank as first class business men, and their long practical experience in the manufacture of iron gives them superior knowledge of the business in which they are now engaged.

Last spring this company commenced erecting the works now occupied by them, and in about three months from the time ground was broken for the erection of the building, they were in full blast, manufacturing four tons per day of number four "wire rod," which is one of the specialties they manufacture. They also manufacture different varieties of "squares of iron," which are chiefly used by bolt and screw manufacturers in the New England states, where they find a ready market for all the wares manufactured by this establishment. Of these "iron squares" they have the capacity to manufacture five tons per day. The wire rods and "iron squares" are all manufactured fromthe very best of charcoal iron, and the machinery used by this company, and the articles manufactured by it, are pronounced by competent judges to be equal to any used or made by any of the eastern mills.

The engine which furnishes the force requisite to drive all the machinery is of eight horse power, and was manufactured and put up by Todd & Duncan of this place, the fly wheel of which is fifteen feet in diameter, and is one of the neatest and most perfect specimens of skillful workmanship of the kind extant, and for smoothness and correctness of its working, we believe, it cannot be surpassed or equalled.

The Bellefonte Iron Company, in addition to their superior machinery, have an improved apparatus for purifying water which is a very valuable auxillary to all establishments where steam is used as a motive power. It is very simple in its construction and extracts every particle of lime from the water as well as all other impure substances that water may be impregnated with.

The total cost of the machinery, now in the building, is twenty thousand dollars, and the company intend enlarging their manufacturing capacity to nearly double its present size.

With the rare facilities for manufacturing all kinds of wares that our valley presents, it is a wonder to us that Spring Creek has not long ago been lined with various manufacturing establishments.

DOES IT PAY?—Will farming pay is a question that we hear propounded almost every day. We think it will, and does pay well. Recently we, by invitation jumped into Mr. Isaac Haupt's buggy and accompanied him to the farm of Mr. Rolland Curtin about one mile north east of town. Arriving at Mr. Curtin's farm, and beholding the beautiful farm house which he erected this summer, we involuntarily exclaimed, Oh! how well farming pays! It must pay, else how could all these fine farm houses and large bank barns be built? Mr. Curtin deserves great credit for his enterprise, and for the good taste he has displayed in the architecture of his house. The carpenter work was done by that industrious and excellent mechanic Lewis Wetsler, and he has made a complete job of it. The spouting was contracted for by Isaac Haupt, who has a very large tin and stove store in his neat new building opposite the Bush House. The spouting was put up and fastened under the direction of that first class workman Mr. Charles Robinson. The tenent Mr. White who is a good honest farmer, will thank Mr. Curtin for providing him such a house, and he says he will make it pay Mr. Curtin in good farming and additional crops. Mr. Wetsler, Mr. Haupt and all the mechanics connected in anyway with Mr. Curtin say that he treats his mechanics and workmen well, and always hands over the greenbacks punctually, so soon as earned. We invite the Watchman to take a look at this house, at all the fine farm houses and splendid bank barns in this county and then tell us if he can, where his cry of hard times" comes in, and when the farmers of Centre county and of the whole State ever prospered and flourished, as they have under the wise legislation of the Republican party for the last ten years.

Let the farmers of Pennsylvania endorse the free trade teachings of the Watchman and place the Democratic party once more in power both in the State and nation, and our word for it, they will cease to build fine houses and barns, and the universal cry that "farming don't pay" will go up from every house in America.

EDUCATIONAL.—Under this head the Tyrone Blade opposes giving instruction in the German language, in our schools, and says that it is of no practical benefit whatever, and recommends instruction in Latin as being of more value to the pupils. As the German is a living language and the Latin a dead one, does the editor belong to this, or the spirit world?

CENSUS.—The population of Centre county, according to the census of 1870, is 34,394, an increase since 1860 of 7,394—a larger increase than is shown by any county in the central part of the State.

The population of the western district of Pennsylvania, comprising 45 counties —including Centre—is 1,713,957, against 1,233,049 in 1860—an increase in ten years of 380,918.

RATS AND MEN.—The other day we noticed some full grown boys having, what they termed, rare sport with a poor captured rat. The ingenuity of some person had succeeded in circumventing the perceptive powers of the usually wary rat and induced it to enter a trap whereby it was made prisoner. Perhaps it was the attractive power of food that compelled his hungry ratship to risk his all in order to protract his life, a circumstance which frequently happens to man. However, the poor and starving rat played his best card and lost. The same thing frequently happens to men who are supposed to be much better and wiser than rats. The rat, as we have said, was made prisoner, and his capturer at once tied the end of a stout chord around his prisoners neck, and instead of putting him to death decently and in true orthodox style, let him have full play of the length of the string, and then made his dog worry" it, and as soon as doggy would make a bite at his ratship he would jerk it away from the dog. This operation was performed until the poor starved, mangled rat expired, and the crowd raised a shout of triumph. How brave! how magnanimous? Aye, laughing at the miseries and failure of a poor creature who following out the natural laws of existance, had never harmed one of them. It was a cruel, cold blooded, unfeeling act, yet the mean, hellish cruelty practiced on that poor mangled creature has its counterpart in the every day action of men towards their fellow men. Rats, in many respects are like men, but men are not like rats, for rats attend to their own business and do not harm their own species, while the reverse is the case with a majority of mankind. Man sets a trap for his fellow man whose necessities compell him to enter, and then his capturer at once commences to "worry" him, as the dog did the rat, until he falls by the wayside a mangled and bleeding corpse and brother man with the rabble sets up a shout of triumph.

FUNNY PAPERS" AND THINGS."—In our time we have seen a great many funny newspapers as well as some that could not be classed under that head.—In fact, there is a funny paper printed in Bellefonte, by two funny men In style of architecture it belongs to the highfalutan order with here and there a column of damphoolism thrown in as a relief. Its editorials are frequently blood and thunder productions of the hand saw and meat axe kind seasoned and scented with the essence of China Pig-tail and perfume from "Africa's sunny clime." Besides, this funny paper, edited by funny men, it is the bible by which the tribe of Pennsvalley swear It is a great paper, a funny paper and edited by peculiarly funny men who have the rare faculty of hashing up truth and error in the same dish, so that nothing of the truth can be discovered by the most powerful micrcosopic mind. Some of the fun comes in when it pretends to give the public correct information. For instance: in its last number it announces that E. A. Wasser, Esq., is a modern Democrat and publishes a Democaatis paper in the state of Kansas. The truth is the reverse of this — Mr. Wassar is not a Democrat and does not publish a Democratic paper. He is a Republican and publishes a Republica paper at Girared, Kansas. Now, if this funny paper, edited by funny men, had made such a typographical mistake, we would have thought nothing of it, but we see so many of the same kind in that sheet, that we are compelled to ascribe its want of correctness to the funny antics "and things" which are peculiar to the crotchety minds of the editors. It is, however, a great paper, a funny paper, and edited by funny men. Selah.

THE B. & S. S. R. R. Co.—The Bellefonte and Snow Shoe Rail Road is without doubt one of the best managed roads in this country. Daniel Rhoads, Esq., of this town, is Superintendent of the road; and who gives his whole attention to the management of the road and the business of the company, has won for himself a reputation equalled by few, if any railroad Superintendent's in America. We, at this writing can remember but one slight accident to the freight, and none to the passenger trains, and not a single life lost since the organization of the company, or the completion of the road. All of which we attribute to the careful management and almost superhuman foresight of its Superintendent Mr. Rhoads.

Under his directions the road is now being repaired all along the route, and yesterday morning, we discovered, that they were putting in new trustle work, over the race in this place, in the siding leading from the main track to the coal yard of the company. If all our Railroad Co's. would be thus careful, we would not be compelled to chronicle so many accidents and railroad disasters.

Just here we would state that the company have also built a large coal shed, or rather enclosed their entire coal yard, by a strongly built and well roofed building, so that hereafter it will be impossible for either rain or snow to reach the coal, and the consumers of coal; can always obtain the article dry and in the best order. Such enterprise deserves success and encouragement.

HOMESTEAD LIFE INSURANCE CO.—This company, which has a large cash capital, and composed of a Board of Directors who are pecuniarily interested in its success, supplies a vacancy long felt by the public bringing Life Insurance within the reach of all, by its low rates and mode of payments in monthly installments. The high standing and business reputation of its organizers, men who represent large industrial and manufacturing interests of the State, together with the fact that each policy holder has full participation in the profits, and the endorsements on each policy of its cash value when surrendered, make it a company above all others to be preferred by the Working Men of the country. The model form of the policy in the Homestead are precise and definite in their terms and as secure as U. S. Bonds. All policies are non-forfeitable and have a surrender value marked on them, which allow the insured a certain amount of insurance upon the surrender of the policy, also, a cash value which will be returned at the option of the policy holder. As no other good company offers as low terms as the Homestead, or as easy payments, it is the company to suit the masses which have heretofore been shut out from participating in the benefits arising from Life Insurance.

DR. R. D. TIPTIE has moved his office to office formerly occupied by Dr. Hayes over Watchman office, opposite Bush House.

GEORGE P. ROWELL & Co of New York, the well known and enterprising advertising agents, have purchased the agency of John Hooper & Co of the same city, an equally well known and reliable firm, and by the union of the two will have by far the largest and most flourishing advertising establishment in the country; and if it is as well managed in the future as in the past it cannot fail to become still more gigantic and successful. Messrs. Rowell & Co. publish the American Newspaper Directory, the most complete volume of the kind ever issued in this or any othcountry, and at their New York office they keep on file more than five thousand periodicals, which are always open to the free use of their patrons when in New York. Both the retiring partners of the late firm of J. Hooper & Co. are to remain with Geo. P. Rowell & Co. for some months, until their own business matters can be adjusted, after which Mr. Wayre contemplates going abroad, and Mr. John Hooper, who has been elected treasurer of the Colwells, Shaw and Willard manufacturing company, of New York, will give his attention to the introduction of the patent tin-lined lead pipe, an article of great merit, extensively manufactured and sold by that company.—Springfield Republican.

GARDEN SEEDS.—Every house-keeper knows the advantages of early vegetables and the importance of obtaining good and pure seeds. The seeds sent to this market from foreign or city seedsmen and gardeners; nine times out of ten, prove utterly worthless. Persons wishing fresh seeds and true to name, should apply to C. W. Lambert, Sunny-Side Gardens, Bellefonte Pa., and procure them in good time so as to be ready so soon as the spring opens and the soil sufficiently warm, for the commencement of garden work. Mr. Lambert exhibited both at our own and the Clearfield county fair 46 varieties of garden seeds. He was awarded a diploma both by the Centre and Clearfield county fairs, which fact goes far to prove the superiority of the Sunny Side Seeds over all competition. We publish these facts for the benefit of those who do not raise their own seeds, and for the purpose of aiding Mr. Lambert in his useful and laudable undertaking.

BIG SANDY.—"Meek says the last heard from Armstrong's craft, it was going up Big Sandy Run. with Squire M'Ghee for Pilot, and Granney Furst Cook."

Friend Meek, we know what you are after, it is the fifty cents per thousand feet charter fee. Well, there is only 27 of us. Each two feet would make about 02 cents for the crew. Well Meek, according to your charter, I suppose we will have to fork over. Don't sue us in any other county, we will settle the bill, by giving you a draft on Kurtz, payable six months after he gets the Post Office.

PILOT.

PARTNERSHIP.—We call the attention of our readers to the card of Dr. T. R. Hayes and R. F. Hayes. Dr. T. R. Hayes came to our Borough nearly one year ago, and from that time to this, by his gentlemanly deportment and strict attention to the business of his profession, has built up a practice, so extensive and remunerative, as to make it necessary to call to his assistance his brother Dr. R. F. Hayes. The last named gentleman is a Physician of long standing and experience, and comes amongst us, bearing with him, such testimonials of character and skill as must necessarily establish him in the confidence of our people.

BUSINESS.—Men in business, to be successful, should be affable and accommodating to all. Haughtiness of manner and stylish dignity often drives away good customers and their friends, while attention, courtesy and a disposition to accommodate, secures confidence and increases patronage.

Correct business men can always find time to give necessary attention and exercise due courtesy to others, and can avoid losing time with those who would occupy their time without advantage or profit to themselves or others.

TOOK THE PREMIUM.—At the late Clearfield County Fair, W. D. Rikard, of this place, took the premium of one hundred dollars for the best trotting horse: F. P. Green, of Philipsburg, received a diploma for the best sewing machine, and our enterprising fellow-citizen, C. W. Lambert, received a diploma for the largest and best variety of garden seeds.

The Good Templars organization at Tyrone, Pa., have wound up their organization.

BURNSIDE & THOMAS,

Offer to the public one of the largest and best selected stock of merchandize in Centre county. Call, examine and see for yourself, that it has more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them: those who have not, knows that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood and we need not publish them. Being safe for age and condition in all cases, containing neither calomel or any deleterous drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions from the stomach bowels and other organs of the body, restoring them to their regular action to health, and by converting, wherever they exist, such deranged elements as are the first origin of disease.

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Laggard and loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, BILLIOUS HEADACHE, SICK HEADACHE, JAUNDICE or GREEN SICKNESS, BILLIOUS COLIC and BILLIOUS FEVERS, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhoea, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back or Loins, they should be continuously taken as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change these complaints disappear.

For DROPSY and DROPSICAL SWELLINGS they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a DINNER PILL, take one of two PILLS to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels miserably well, often finds that a dose of these PILLS makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

DR. J. AYER, Practical Chemist, LOWELL, MASS.

This Remedy does not simply relieve for a short time, but it produces perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases of Chronic Nasal Catarrh, and I will pay $500 reward for a case that I cannot cure. "Cold in the head" and Catarrhal Headache are cured with a few applications. If you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise, stopping up of the nose at times, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, eyes watering or weak, feel dull, have pain or pressure in the head, you may rest assured that you have Catarrh. Thousands annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, terminate in Consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive or less understood by physicians. I will send my pamphlet on Catarrh to any address free. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is now

Farm and Household.

Wednesday Morning Nov. 2, 1870.

The Farmer's Security.

The high prizes of life are not offered to the farmer; not one in a thousand acquires a princely fortune by the cultivation of the soil. This is so well understood by the shrewd men, who "will be rich," that almost every man of them avoids farming, as by instinct. But there is another side to this subject, which is full of interest and instruction.

Almost every farmer who has average health and industry, acquires a competence and an independence.—Four out of five families will furnish proof of the assertion, that men, beginning with nothing but personal industry, and an unsullied name, have, within the last twenty years, risen to the posession of comfort and abundance. The exceptions to this remark are few, and can be readily accounted for on the most obvious principles. Now set down against this fact, which the last 50 years has developed, namely that nine out of ten of all who engage in trade fail in business, and farmers have abundant reason to felicitate themselves on their position and its blessings.

Where the farmer exercises care and prudence, and does not go out of his business to make money, he is quite beyond the reach of bankruptcy.

We have taken some pains to learn the actual condition of the farming interest in the region of our calculation, and it is our belief that nearly every serious case of embarrasment has arisen from one, or both, of the two following causes: Farmers have purchased faster than necessity required, or prudence permitted; or they have gone beyond their business to engage in speculation, more or less remote from their work as farmers; when they have become commercial men, they have incurred the risks of commerce, and these risks should not be set down to the account of agriculture; for where farmers have kept aloof from these, they have avoided those entanglements which have been the "lion's net" to so many men.

We invite the attention of our young men to these facts. They are worthy of the most thoughtful recollection.

Other professions are always crowded to overflowing; very few succeed in them. The present commercial derangement is scattering the fictitious fabrics built on hollow credit, while the farming interests are comparatively unscathed.—Ohio Farmer.

Keeping Cider Sweet.

No cider will keep well and have a fine flavor that is not expressed from good apples, is not well made and carefully separated from pomace. It must always be borne in mind that the nearer cider is cleared from its impurities, the better it will keep.—For the purpose of keeping it from passing into the acetic fermentation, several substances have been recommended to be placed in the barrel or cask after the cider has fermented to such an extent as to have the flavor that is desired. The following substances if added at the time spoken of will have the effect to retard fermentation for several months: 3 lbs. good raisins; 1-2 pound of mustard seeds; one ounce of ginger root. The barrel should be bunged tight after these are added. Another highly recommended for the same purpose is the sulphite of lime. The proportion used is a quarter of an ounce to every gallon of cider in the cask; first mixing the powder with a quart of cider, and then pouring it into the cask and giving it a good shaking or rolling. As cider always sours faster after considerable has been drawn from the cask, an additional preventive against acidification is found in some substance that prevents the air from coming in contact with it. A pint of good sperm oil, or what is better, sweet oil, poured into the bung hole after two or three gallons have been drawn out, will completely cover the surface of the cider, admit the pressure of the air necessary for drawing off, but prevent its actual contact with the cider.

WASHING TABLE LINEN.—It is poor economy in our opinion to boil or freeze table cloths if brown. It gives them an old yellow look. White ones may be kept clear by spreading for a few hours in the hot sun or on the snow when the sun shines. If there are fruit stains on them pour boiling water on them before washing. The boiling and freezing make them soft, and once hanging on the line in the air and freezing dry wears linen more than two weeks constant use. A little starch should be added to the last water, and they should be hung up straight on frames to dry. If they dry in a twist they cannot be ironed smooth without extra pains.—Rural New Yorker.

HEN MANURE.—Save every ounce you can gather. Put into barrels or boxes and cover with earth, and in March next, make a compost, mixing about three parts of good soil to one part of hen-manure, and leave it where the rain will keep it moist, till wanted for use. A gill of this compost in a hill of corn, will act as a powerful fertilizer.

WHENEVER glycerine is applied to any part of the body where there is hair, care must be taken to have it chemically pure, as otherwise the salts of lime, one of its most common impurities, will injure and finally destroy the hair bulbs, and cause baldness, dropping of the eyelashes, etc.

SORE MOUTHS.—For sore mouths, either in human beings or animals, no application is equal to tannin, which should always be kept in the house for that purpose. A little of the powder, sprinkled on the inflamed or sore spots, will cure almost immediately.

BLISTERED HANDS AND FEET.—The speediest remedy is to light a tallow candle and let the melted tallow drop in cold water, then mix the tallow with strong spirits and rub it thoroughly into the palms and soles. This is both a preventative and a cure.

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.

Sung to the tune of Yankee Doodle.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now complete connections made,
An enterprising notion.

The mighty work at last is done,
So speedy and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.

No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about
And wore out all their clothing.

CHORUS, for the end of each verse:

The Great Pacific Railroad laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG,
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of Spring and Summer clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.

People who travel by other routes, and also people who, instead of travelling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home, can find the most superior and seasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest prices.

Do not fail to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere; if you do not, we are sure you will be sorry that you did not. Our goods are put down to the lowest figure. We sell whole suits, according to quality.

RANGING FROM $6.50 to $18.00

—the very best.

MANHOOD

In the Young and Rising Generation-

The vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lackjustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which Nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so facinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision Langour, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this Medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases Insanity and Consumption! The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth or Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur, it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.
